

C/J NEWS

VOLUME 8, ISSUE 1 SEPTEMBER, 2007

WELCOME...WELCOME BACK!

The Communication/Journalism Department welcomes all our new first-year and transfer students, and welcomes back all our returning students.

For those of you who were expecting to find us in our new building, the Fay Media Arts Center (also known as Basil North) is not quite done, but we anticipate moving in later this semester. So for now, find your favorite professors in their old offices—EXCEPT for Dr. Jim Seward, who was relocated to Library 309 for the summer and will stay there. Also, our newest faculty member, Professor Kyle Reinson, will be temporarily located in Pharmacy 310, right next door to Dr. Bicket.

C/J faculty pose in front of their new building. From left, Prof. Kyle Reinson, Cecil Felton, Dr. Jack Rosenberry, Prof. Kelly McCormick-Sullivan, Dr. Lauren Vicker, Dr. Dougie Bicket, Prof. Jeremy Sarachan, Dr. Jim Seward, Prof. Mary Loporcaro, Steve Boerner, and Dr. Jim Trammell. (Photo by Ben Rawdon.)

It was a busy summer for the department, with faculty completing a number of professional publications and presentations and students busily planning ahead for the academic year.

It was an especially busy summer for Cecil Felton in the TV lab, as he oversaw the ordering of the new G-6 Mac computers for the brand new Mac lab (Basil 101, the former site of the Basil Secretaries' office).

WELCOME, BABY TRAMMELL!

The summer was an especially hectic time for Dr. Jim Trammell, who officially received his doctorate the same week he and his wife Anne Marie welcomed Cooper Kinman Trammell into their family. Cooper made his debut at the C/J Faculty picnic on August 30 and found the entire event so exciting that he slept right through it. More photos of Cooper and his family can be found at jim-trammell.com.

C/J INTERNS!

THE FIRST MEETING FOR THE FALL 2007 INTERNS WILL BE HELD THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, AT 12:30 PM IN C-123.

BE SURE TO PICK UP A CONTRACT FORM BEFORE THE MEETING!

Congratulations!

To members of Cardinal Television who traveled with the Fisher Football team to cover the Kings College game on September 1—before school even began. Watch for Cardinal Football on Cardinal Television on campus cable 12 or at cardinaltelevision.com.

C/J Cookies? Jack Sullivan, son of Prof. Kelly McCormick-Sullivan, made C/J cookies to bring to the department's welcome back picnic on August 30.

SUMMER INTERNS MAKE A SPLASH

C/J majors interned at a variety of media organizations this summer.

Jinelle Shengulette received a New York State Broadcasting Association Internship and was paid for a summer's worth of work at FOX Rochester.

Julia Vosburgh completed an internship in the communications office at Camp Good Days and Special Times, where, among other things, she developed an e-newsletter for donors and friends of camp.

Susan Pedrotti expanded her broadcasting experience with an internship at WSTM in Syracuse.

Wes Juliano completed a marketing internship at CGI Communications in Rochester.

Bill Kuchman was a member of the student development team at the Democrat and Chronicle for The Loop, Gannett's Collegiate Multimedia project.

Jillian Stevenson did writing and editing for City Newspaper.

Lisa Famiglietti was an on-line producer for Gatehouse Media.

*Four students completed internships in public relations in the area: Jennie Jones at ABVI Goodwill, Kristy Guerra at MCC, Staci Harrison at Highland Hospital, and Kelly Ogiba at Children's Hospital in Buffalo.

Members of the Cardinal Courier Senior Staff completed a 2-day retreat in August. Among their new initiatives were a redesign of the look of the Courier and plans for the new on-line edition. Pictured front row, from left, Wendy VanDellon, Amanda Nasso, Nicole Russo, back row, Mike Spier, Bill Kuchman, Lyz Mancini, Kyle Hayes, Brad Waters, and Craig Kannalley. Missing are Kevin Fuller, Megan Baker, Nickie Reitz, Chris Potter and Sarah Gaylord

THE FIRST MEETING OF THE CARDINAL COURIER IS WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, AT 4:35 PM IN THE COURIER OFFICE. ALL NEW AND RETURNING STUDENTS ARE WELCOME!

ALUMNI & FACULTY UPDATE

Colleen Kiser is working in communications for the Greater Rochester Visitors Association.

Carolyn Lauber is doing event planning and community relations for the Salvation Army.

The C/J Department welcomes two new adjunct faculty this fall:

Prof. Joe Seil will be teaching PR in Sports on Thursday evenings. Prof. Seil is a C/J alum and is currently the Assistant Athletic Director and Sports Information Director at Nazareth College.

Prof. Jan Miller will be teaching the 1-credit Non-Profit Development course on Wednesday evenings beginning September 12. Prof. Miller is the Executive Director of the upstate New York chapter of the National Kidney Foundation.

Do you have a news item for C/J News? Send your submission to Dr. Lauren Vicker at lvicker@sjfc.edu or drop by her office in C-138.